

AINC Student Services at Home

The Audio Information Network of Colorado (AINC) is in its 25th year of serving Colorado residents. AINC's mission is to provide audio access to ink print materials not otherwise available to Colorado's blind, visually impaired, and print disabled residents. Programming for students currently includes children's stories as well as the following educational publications:

Astronomy

Travelers in the Night – Grades 5th through 9th

History

Cobblestones Magazine – Grades 5th through 9th

Nature

Ranger Rick Magazine – Grades 1st through 6th

Zoo Books Magazine – Grades 1st through 6th

National Geographic Kids Magazine – Grades 1st through 6th

Science

Kids Discover Magazine – Grades 1st through 6th

Muse Magazine – Grades 5th through 9th

Odyssey Magazine – Grades 5th through 9th

Literature and Art

Skipping Stone Magazine – Grades 3rd through 9th

Cricket Magazine – Grades 5th through 9th

Travelin' Tales – ages 8 through 17

World Culture

Faces Magazine – Grades 5th through 9th

Spanish language programming is also available. AINC wants to ensure that blind and print disabled students have the same access to printed materials as their sighted classmates. We are interested in hearing from parents and students about publications that they would like to be able to access in audio format.

AINC's general programming includes newspapers, ads, and magazines that are helpful to older students transitioning to higher education or the workforce. Listeners access AINC's programming via telephone, broadcast, or the internet. All AINC services, including equipment and program schedules, are provided free of charge.

Parents can register their students online or by telephone. Staff members are happy to answer any questions.

Services for Individuals with Print Disabilities

In 2015, AINC will celebrate 25 years of providing audio services to help individuals with print disabilities maintain independence and stay connected to their community. A person with any condition that makes it difficult to read is eligible for AINC's free services and equipment. AINC volunteers read and record nearly 100 Colorado newspapers; grocery/discount ads; magazines; and other local publications. Programming is also available in Spanish. Individuals have independent access to programming 24 hours a day, seven days a week. We offer a variety of listening options so an individual can choose what is best for them.

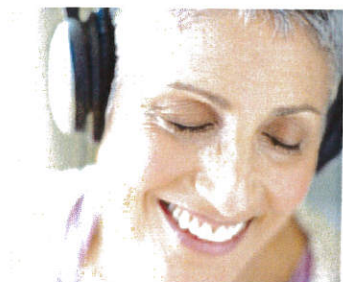

Listening options include:

- Telephone
 - Listen to one of the three regional broadcasts
 - Use the Information-On-Demand menu system to listen to programs at your convenience
- Digital Receiver – Regional broadcasts
- Internet Radio – Regional broadcasts
- Internet
 - Listen to regional broadcasts
 - Download Podcasts of programs

AINC does not charge listeners for services or equipment. Individuals can complete applications by phone or online. Staff members are always happy to answer your questions and assist with equipment set-up as needed.
